3. Director's Report – Executive Director, Paula Gardner

Director Gardner announced she participated in Lincoln Commission on Human Rights' monthly show, that highlights different agencies or individuals throughout the community. She answered questions and discussed the agency's processes.

Director Gardner stated an Omaha Investigator left for a similar position in Omaha. The agency was able to obtain permission to fill the position.

Director Gardner shared that the agency has submitted the biennium budget. Every agency is required to indicate modifications that will be made if there is a reduction, and the outcome/consequences of those reductions. The agency put forth a one-time reduction for legal fees, , a statutory change regarding position that we will work with a Senator on achieving, as well as shifting some federal funds to cover a portion of salaries and other operating expenses. Any shift to use federal funds are noted as temporary as long term use reduces federal funds at a rate faster than we are able to recoup through the federal contracts. The agency won't know until legislature is back in session what the Governor's or legislature's budgets will be for the agency.

Director Gardner stated the agency is still waiting on the HUD contract. However, there has been some movement as HUD reached out for clarification on account information.

Director Gardner said the agency worked with the state's new AI program to test to see if it would provide the correct information since it uses information from the agency's website. Overall, it went well and changes that could be made to the information on the agency's website were made.
